Words of Wisdom, Through History

Here are a few quotes reprinted by the High Twelve Magazine a few years ago which we can view through the eyes of history.

“As far as sinking a ship with a bomb is concerned, it just can’t be done.” Rear Admiral Clark Woodward, USN

“Fooling around with alternating current is just a waste of time. Nobody will ever use it. It could kill man as quick as a bolt of lightning. Direct current is safe.” Thomas Alva Edison, circa 18810.

“While theoretically and technically television may be feasible, commercially and economically I consider it an impossibility, a development of which we need spend little time dreaming.” Lee DeForest, physicist, 1926.

“The flying machines will eventually be fast, they will be used for sport but they will not be thought of as commercial carriers.” Octave Chanute, aviation pioneer, 1910.

“That is the biggest fool thing we have ever done. The (atomic bomb) will never go off, and I speak as an expert in explosives.” Adm. William Leahy, US Navy to President Harry S. Truman, 1945.
